It is my great pleasure to extend warm greetings to the organizers, exhibitors, participants, and visitors of ProFood ProPack & AgBiz 2026, Sri Lanka's premier exhibition for food processing, packaging, and agribusiness.

As Sri Lanka drives toward sustainable economic growth, these sectors remain vital contributors to national development through value addition, export growth, job creation, and enhanced food security. ProFood ProPack & AgBiz 2026 offers an exceptional platform to showcase innovations, exchange knowledge, build strategic partnerships, and explore new investment opportunities while strengthening Sri Lanka's global competitiveness.

The continued advancement of these industries relies on innovation, sustainability, and collaboration. By uniting local and international stakeholders, this event fosters essential technology transfer, market access, and industry partnerships necessary for long-term growth.

I commend the Sri Lanka Food Processors Association and its partners for organizing this significant event. I wish all participants a rewarding experience and trust this exhibition will meaningfully contribute to a more resilient and prosperous Sri Lanka.

Hon. Sunil Handunneththi

Message from the President Sri Lanka Food Processors Association (SLFPA)

It is my great honor and privilege, as President of the Sri Lanka Food Processors Association (SLFPA), to welcome you to the 23rd Edition of Pro Food Pro Pack Ag-Biz & Knowledge Hub 2026.

Over the past 22 years, this exhibition has grown to become Sri Lanka's premier platform for the food processing, packaging, and agriculture industries. It brings together manufacturers, suppliers, technology providers, exporters, entrepreneurs, investors, academics, and policymakers, consumers under one roof. to explore opportunities that strengthen our industry and contribute to the nation's economic development.

The food processing industry is entering a transformative era. Rapid technological advancements, evolving consumer expectations, sustainability imperatives, and increasingly stringent food safety and labelling regulations are reshaping the way we manufacture, market, and export food products. While these developments present new challenges, they also create significant opportunities to innovate, adopt international best practices, and enhance the global competitiveness of Sri Lankan food products.

This year's exhibition reflects that vision, with nearly 450 stalls, it will feature the highest number of exhibitors in the profood history. Visitors will experience the latest innovations in food processing technologies, advanced packaging solutions, automation, quality assurance systems, and sustainable manufacturing practices. More importantly, the exhibition continues to serve as a valuable platform for knowledge sharing, collaboration, and business networking, enabling industry stakeholders to exchange ideas, establish strategic partnerships, and discover innovative solutions that will drive long term growth and transform the industry.

A defining feature of Pro Food Pro Pack Ag-Biz & Knowledge Hub 2026 is our continued commitment to developing future industry leaders and fostering innovation. Through the Knowledge Hub initiative, first introduced by SLFPA several years ago, we have further expanded the programme this year by introducing “Knowledge Circle” that address emerging priorities within the food processing industry.

One of the highlights is the industry seminar, "Next Generation Foods in Sri Lanka," organized by the Institute of Food Science and Technology of Sri Lanka (IFSTSL) will feature a distinguished line-up of industry experts who will share their views and strengthening the partnership between academia and industry, we are nurturing the next generation of food scientists, technologists, entrepreneurs, and industry leaders who will shape the future of Sri Lanka's food sector.

At the same time, we remain deeply committed to supporting Sri Lanka's small and medium-scale food processors, who represent the backbone of our industry. The SME pavilion organized by the Ministry of Industries has brought in a lot of SMEs in past years and has given tremendous support in bringing so many SME exhibitors under one roof for this mega event. This event will give a tremendous opportunity for these SMEs to try out new innovations and get valuable feedback from the end consumers.

As an Association, SLFPA is committed to working closely with government institutions, regulatory authorities, development partners, academia, and industry stakeholders to promote policies that encourage sustainable growth, food safety, technological advancement, innovation, and value addition. Through stronger collaboration and constructive dialogue, we can collectively build a more resilient, competitive, and globally recognized Sri Lankan food processing industry.

The continued success of this exhibition would not be possible without the unwavering support of our exhibitors, sponsors, the Ministry of Industries and other government agencies, industry partners, academic institutions, the Organizing Committee, the SLFPA Executive Committee, our Past Presidents, and the SLFPA Secretariat. Your commitment and partnership have enabled this exhibition to evolve into an internationally recognized event that showcases the strength, innovation, and potential of Sri Lanka's food processing industry.

On behalf of the Sri Lanka Food Processors Association, I extend my sincere appreciation to everyone who has contributed to making this event a success. I warmly invite all visitors to explore emerging technologies, discover new business opportunities, build lasting partnerships, and experience the innovations that will shape the future of our industry.

I wish all exhibitors, delegates, business partners, and visitors a successful, productive, and rewarding Pro Food Pro Pack Ag-Biz & Knowledge Hub 2026.

Together, let us build a future where Sri Lanka's food processing industry continues to innovate, compete globally, and contribute meaningfully to the nation's sustainable economic prosperity.

Message from the Managing Director Lanka Exhibition and Conference Services (Pvt) Ltd

I am delighted to extend my warm greetings to all participants of the 23rd ProFood ProPack & AgBiz Exhibition 2026, taking place from 21st to 23rd August 2026 at BMICH, Colombo. Lanka Exhibition & Conference Services (Pvt) Ltd, are proud to have been a stakeholder of this prestigious exhibition since its inception, alongside the Sri Lanka Food Processors Association (SLFPA) and the National Agribusiness Council. The Processed Food and Packaging industries, along with the exhibition itself, have witnessed remarkable growth since the establishment of ProFood ProPack & AgBiz in 2002. The Sri Lankan processed food sector continues to demonstrate strong growth potential, with the market projected to grow at an annual rate of approximately 10.67% in 2026, driven by increasing consumer demand, innovation, and investment opportunities within the industry.

The industry continues to play a significant role in Sri Lanka's economy, contributing to both domestic consumption and export growth. The sector records annual export earnings exceeding USD 400 million, with processed food products being among the key contributors to Sri Lanka's agricultural and manufacturing exports. With increasing investments in technology, value addition, and sustainable production practices, the industry is expected to continue its upward growth trajectory in the coming years. Small and Medium-sized Enterprises (SMEs) within the industry participate in the exhibition through the SME Pavilion, with these companies being selected and supported by the Ministry of Industries. Over the years, we have been pleased to witness many of these enterprises benefit from the exposure and opportunities provided through the exhibition, going on to establish partnerships, secure investments, and strengthen their presence within Sri Lanka's Processed Food and Packaging sector. As we celebrate the 23rd edition of this exhibition, I would like to express my sincere appreciation for the unwavering support and collective effort that has transformed this event from an exhibition of just 50 stalls into one of Sri Lanka's largest and most influential industry exhibitions, now featuring nearly 450 stalls and expecting to welcome over 40,000 visitors, including more than 4,500 registered trade visitors. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to our exhibitors, visitors, sponsors, industry partners, and supporters whose continued confidence and commitment have made this exhibition a success. This year's exhibition features several notable highlights, including the University Pavilion, SME Pavilion, and Start-Up Pavilion, which serve as dedicated platforms for students, emerging entrepreneurs, and SME enterprises to present their innovative ideas, products, and capabilities while contributing to the continued growth and development of the industry. In addition, we are pleased to introduce the Home Cooking Challenge 2026, a new concurrent event to be held alongside the ProFood ProPack & AgBiz Exhibition. This initiative provides a dedicated platform for aspiring home cooks, to demonstrate their culinary skills and creativity while further enriching the overall exhibition experience for visitors and reinforcing the exhibition's commitment to promoting innovation and excellence across the food industry.

We are also delighted to welcome a strong presence of international exhibitors, creating greater opportunities for knowledge sharing, business partnerships, technology transfer, and regional collaboration. The exhibition offers an ideal environment for businesses to showcase their products and services, discover emerging market trends, and establish meaningful connections that will contribute to the future growth of the food processing, packaging, and agribusiness sectors.

I encourage all visitors to make the most of the exhibition by engaging with exhibitors, exploring the latest innovations, participating in networking opportunities, and attending the informative industry seminars and concurrent events taking place throughout the exhibition. As the professional exhibition organizer, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to our partners, the Sri Lanka Food Processors Association (SLFPA) and the National Agribusiness Council, for once again placing their trust in Lanka Exhibition & Conference Services (Pvt) Ltd to jointly organize this significant national industry event. Together, let us continue to strengthen Sri Lanka's food processing, packaging, and agribusiness industries through collaboration, innovation, and sustainable growth.

I wish all the exhibitors, visitors, sponsors, partners, and stakeholders a productive, rewarding, and highly successful ProFood ProPack & AgBiz Exhibition 2026.
